

DURIAN FUSION

Explanation of test images

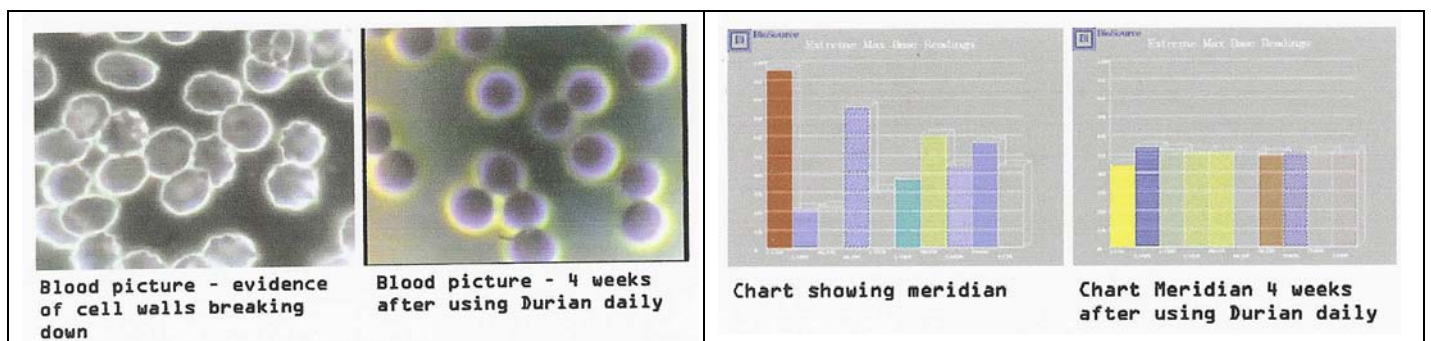

Explanation of the before and after tests that Australian health practitioner John Catsicas made prior to the launch of Durian Fusion.

The live blood cell before and after tests are quite easy to see and understand. The person chosen had poor read blood cells. They were unshapely, looking like medieval maces (spiky balls on a length of chain used as weapons by the crusaders!) exhibiting severe oxidative stress. The re-test 4 weeks later show a massive improvement in the live blood cells, which are now smooth with strong membranes and round – as they should be – and no longer sticking together. A great result! Now to the second test.

When a naturopath or professional consultant wishes to measure the performance of the body's 12 meridians, plus the many other energy points in the body, he may use electrodermal testing such as a Vega, Mora or Listen machine. These machines can detect the balance of the body's energy by measuring it at a number of acupuncture points on the body. The machine detects the Chi or Meridian balance of various organs and the energy radiated by the musculature/skeletal systems. There are more than 40 energy points that can be checked. The machine then picks the 10 worst results and depicts them on a graph. The perfect Chi factor should see them sit at exactly the same place – that is the centerline of the printed graph. The job of the practitioner is to recommend products that will help bring the body back into alignment. When he repeats the test at a given time he checks to see what progress has been made.

A male was used for the Listen machine Durian Fusion test. The beneficial effects can be seen on the second graph which was measured four weeks later. The results were so good that almost all the Chi factors were balanced. These results still show the 10 worst areas in the body – which means all the other meridians and energy points are now in good shape. The body has responded really well to the taking of Durian Fusion juice.

For more information about Durian Fusion

Contact

Judy Tovey

309-862-3624

judy@antiagingchoices.com

<http://antiagingchoices.com>